Melissa Travis, an individual, on behalf of herself and those similarly situated, Plaintiffs, vs. Audit Systems Incorporated, Defendant.	Case No. GD-18-
---	-----------------

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

AND NOW, comes the Plaintiff, Melissa Travis, on behalf of herself and all those similarly situated, by and through undersigned counsel, and files this Class Action Complaint, and in support thereof avers as follows:

Introduction

1. This is a class action for damages brought by consumers pursuant to the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1692, et seq. (the “FDCPA”), which prohibits debt collectors from engaging in harassing, abusive, false, deceptive, misleading and/or unfair debt collection practices.

2. Defendant, Audit Systems Incorporated (“Defendant”), systematically sends initial collection letters (the “Initial Written Communications”) to consumers on behalf of others in an attempt to collect consumer debts and said letters are required to contain a notice pursuant to the FDCPA and, specifically, 15 U.S.C. § 1692g (the “Notice”).

3. The Initial Written Communications contain language which invites the consumers to call Defendant to dispute the debt or otherwise leaves a consumer uncertain or confused as to what she/he/they must do to effectively dispute the debt.

4. As such, Defendant is subject to strict liability pursuant to the FDCPA for sending the Initial Written Communications to Plaintiff and other Pennsylvania consumers in an attempt to collect consumer debts.

5. Accordingly, Plaintiff, Melissa Travis (the "Plaintiff"), individually, on behalf of herself and those similarly situated, seeks relief pursuant to the FDCPA.

Jurisdiction and Venue

6. Jurisdiction of this Court arises out of, but not limited to, the Defendant's violation(s) of the FDCPA.

7. At all relevant times herein, Defendant was engaged in the collection of delinquent consumer debts within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania including, but not limited to, Allegheny County and venue is proper in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania pursuant to the Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure.

Parties

8. At all times mentioned herein, Plaintiff is a natural person and consumer and is a citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, County of Allegheny. At all relevant times herein, Plaintiff was allegedly obligated to pay a defaulted debt as specifically set forth herein and Plaintiff is a "consumer" as defined in the FDCPA.

9. Defendant is a corporation established in the State of Florida with a business address located at 3696 Ulmerton Road, Suite 200, Clearwater, FL 33762. Defendant conducts business and/or attempts to collect delinquent consumer debts throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, including, but not limited to, the County of Allegheny.

10. Defendant is a "debt collector" as defined in the FDCPA and, at all times relevant herein, acted by and/or through their owners, managers, officers, shareholders, authorized representatives, partners, employees, agents, affiants, attorneys, affiliates and/or workmen.

11. Defendant regularly engages in collecting delinquent consumer debts and regularly uses the mails and/or the telephone in an attempt to collect, directly or indirectly, delinquent consumer debts allegedly owed or due or asserted to be owed or due another.

12. Defendant's principal purpose is the collection of delinquent debts.

13. According to Defendant's website, it provides "Third Party Collections Servicing" and states as follows: "ASI provides third party collection services to assist our clients with collecting delinquent and charged off accounts receivable. We understand the challenges faced by consumers..."

Factual Allegations

14. At all relevant times herein, the related delinquent consumer debt was an Advanced Integrated Medical ("AIM") account incurred by Plaintiff as a result of personal medical services (the "Debt"). At all relevant times herein, the Debt was a consumer "debt" as defined in the FDCPA. The Debt was incurred based on purchases related to and/or used primarily for personal, family and/or household purposes.

15. On a date better known to Defendant, AIM assigned, transferred, or otherwise placed the Debt with Defendant for the purpose of attempting to collect the same from Plaintiff.

16. On December 6, 2017, Defendant intentionally mailed a collection letter to Plaintiff in an attempt to collect the Debt (the "Letter"). Thereafter, Plaintiff received and reviewed the Letter at the relevant date/time. A true and correct copy of the Letter (redacted) is attached hereto, incorporated herein, and marked as Exhibit "A." The Letter is a "communication" as defined in the FDCPA given the Letter conveyed information regarding the Debt, implied the existence thereof, and attempted to induce payment of the same from Plaintiff. The Letter was also the initial communications sent by Defendant to Plaintiff regarding the Debt.

17. Upon information and belief, the Letter is a template or generated form and sent to numerous consumers.

18. Amongst other content on the Letter was in bold in the top left-hand corner the name of Defendant and a toll free phone number. What is not in bold is the address of Defendant in the same location. See Exhibit A.

19. As a result of the Letter being the initial written communication sent by Defendant to Plaintiff for the Debt, the Letter was required to contain the Notice, which was placed on the Letter right after the instructions on how to make a payment online. See Exhibit A.

20. The Notice starts with “Unless you notify this office within 30 days after receiving this notice that you dispute the validity of the debt or any portion thereof, this office will assume this debt to be valid.” See Exhibit A.

21. In drafting the Letter, Defendant intentionally included and/or approved the following language: “If the account is outstanding due to a billing error or other problem, please feel free to contact one of our representatives with questions at 1-800-741-1696 during business hours of Monday through Thursday 8:00am – 9:00pm EST and Friday 8:00am- 7:00pm EST” (the “Invite”). See Exhibit A.

22. The phone number contained in the Invite is the same phone number contained in bold near the top left-hand corner of the Letter where the address is not in bold. See Exhibit A.

23. Upon information and belief, Defendant sent the same template or generated form letter to many consumers throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in an attempt to collect delinquent consumer debts.

Class Action Allegations

24. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the above paragraphs of this Class Action Complaint as though fully set forth herein.

25. Plaintiff brings this class action individually, on behalf of herself and those similarly situated in compliance with the Pennsylvania Rules of Civil Procedure.

26. Plaintiff proposes to define the class as follows:

- a) all consumers residing in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania;
- b) who were sent a collection letter in the form of Exhibit A, attached to the Class Action Complaint, or substantially similar from Defendant, which was not returned as undeliverable by the U.S. Post Office;
- c) in an attempt to collect any obligation or alleged obligation incurred for personal, family, or household purposes;
- d) within one (1) year prior to the filing of this action through the date of class certification.

27. This action relates to template or generated form collection letters that are sent to numerous consumers throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, including, but not limited to, the County of Allegheny.

28. Plaintiff does not know the exact size or identities of the class, as Defendant maintains exclusive control of such information. However, Plaintiff believes that the class includes approximately hundreds of individuals residing in Pennsylvania whose identities can be readily determined from Defendant's business records. Therefore, the proposed class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable.

29. All class members have been affected by the same conduct. The common questions of law and fact predominate over any questions affecting only individual members of the class. These questions include, but are not limited to:

- a) whether Plaintiff and class members received a collection letter in the form of Exhibit A, attached to the Class Action Complaint, or substantially similar from Defendant;

- b) whether such collection letters violate the FDCPA entitling Plaintiff and class members to statutory damages for such violations.

30. Plaintiff's claims are typical of the claims of the class and do not conflict with the interests of any other class members. Plaintiff and the members of the class were uniformly subjected to the same conduct.

31. Plaintiff's claims are based on the same factual and legal theories with all class members being consumers who defaulted on a consumer debt and received an improper collection letter from Defendant.

32. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately represent the class members' interests and has retained counsel who are qualified to pursue this litigation. Plaintiff's counsel are experienced in prosecuting claims for consumer abuse pursuant to the FDCPA and are competent to represent the class.

33. A class action is superior for the fair and efficient adjudication of the class members' claims as Congress specifically envisioned class actions as a principal means of enforcing the FDCPA. See 15 U.S.C. § 1692k. The members of the class are generally unsophisticated consumers, whose rights will not be vindicated in the absence of a class action. Prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the class would also create the risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications resulting in the establishment of inconsistent or varying standards and would not be in the best interest of judicial economy.

34. A class action regarding the issues in this case does not create any problems of manageability.

35. A class action will allow similarly situated consumers to prosecute common claims efficiently and adjudicate small claims simultaneously without the need for numerous individual actions and the associated effort and expense for each individual action. The class action will also allow class members to seek legal redress for a deprivation of their rights who may be unable to locate or afford legal counsel competent in prosecuting FDCPA claims.

Causes of Action

Count I
Violations of the FDCPA
15 U.S.C. § 1692g

36. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the above paragraphs of this Class Action Complaint as though fully set forth herein.

37. There is abundant evidence of the use of abusive, deceptive, and unfair collection practices by many debt collectors. Abusive debt collection practices contribute to the number of personal bankruptcies, marital instability and invasions of individual privacy.

38. The FDCPA was enacted, in part, due to existing laws and/or procedures being inadequate for redressing the types of injuries as set forth herein.

39. Defendant knew or should have known that its actions violated the FDCPA.

40. Defendant is subject to strict liability for its actions in attempting to collect the Debt as set forth herein.

41. The Letter can be reasonably read to have two or more different meanings, one of which is false, confusing, and/or inaccurate as set forth herein.

42. Defendant could have taken steps necessary to bring its actions within FDCPA compliance, but neglected to do so and failed to adequately review its actions to ensure compliance with the law.

43. As stated above, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692g, within five (5) days after the initial communication with a consumer in connection with the collection of any debt, a debt collector shall, unless the information is contained in the initial communication or the consumer has paid the debt, send the consumer a written notice containing certain enumerated information.

44. Section 1692g of the FDCPA also provides:

If the consumer notifies the debt collector in writing within the thirty-day period described in subsection (a) of this section that the debt, or any portion thereof, is disputed, or that the consumer requests the name and address of the original creditor, the debt collector shall cease collection of the debt, or any disputed portion thereof, until the debt collector obtains verification of the debt or a copy of a judgment, or the name and address of the original creditor, and a copy of such verification or judgment, or name and address of the original creditor, is mailed to the consumer by the debt collector.

15 U.S.C. § 1692g(b).

45. The purpose of the notice is to advise the consumer of his or her right to dispute the validity of the debt and how to do so. Homer v. The Law Offices of Frederic I. Weinberg & Associates, P.C., 2:17-cv-00880-TJS (E.D. PA. Nov. 9, 2017) (citing Caprio v. Healthcare Revenue Recovery Grp., LLC, 709 F.3d 142, 148 (3d Cir. 2013)).

46. “The right to dispute a debt is the most fundamental of those set forth in § 1692g(a)...” Hooks v. Forman, Holt, Eliades & Ravin, LLC, 717 F.3d 282, 286 (2d Cir. 2013).

47. The FDCPA does not presume that a debtor who receives a dunning letter knows he has the right to dispute the debt and to request verification of the debt. Jacobson v. Healthcare Fin. Servs., Inc., 516 F.3d 85, 95 (2d Cir. 2008).

48. The debt validation notice is an important statutory right which must be effectively conveyed to the consumer.

49. It is not enough to merely regurgitate the Notice onto a collection letter. Caprio vs. Healthcare Revenue Recovery Group, LLC, 709 F.3d 142 (3d Cir. 2013).

50. In assessing the efficacy of the debt validation notice, courts within the Third Circuit must do so from the perspective of the least sophisticated consumer. See Graziano v. Harrison, 950 F.2d 107, 111 (3d Cir. 1991).

51. Within the Third Circuit, a dispute of a consumer debt (such as the Debt herein) must be in writing in order to be effective. See Graziano, 950 F.2d at 112. A dispute of the debt orally does not trigger the consumer's verification right under the FDCPA. Id.

52. In the Third Circuit, a validation notice within a dunning collection letter that invites the consumer to call the debt collector to dispute the debt or otherwise leaves a consumer uncertain or confused as to what she must do to effectively dispute the debt has been deemed a violation of the FDCPA. See Caprio, 709 F.3d at 148 - 149 (3d Cir. 2013).

53. The Letter misrepresents the consumer's rights pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692g.

54. The Letter does not properly inform the least sophisticated consumer that in order to effectively dispute the debt, such dispute must be in writing.

55. Upon reading the Letter, a reasonable probability exists that a least sophisticated consumer would be confused and/or misled as to what he or she must do to effectively dispute the debt. A least sophisticated consumer could be confused or uncertain as to whether a written response is required.

56. Upon reading the Letter, a least sophisticated consumer could reasonably believe that he or she could effectively dispute the validity of the debt by making a telephone call rather than disputing the debt in writing (i.e., the Invite).

57. Upon reading the Letter, a least sophisticated consumer could be under the mistaken belief that he or she could request validation of the debt by calling Defendant (i.e., disputing the debt orally).

58. As such, the Letter is misleading, deceptive and/or fails to effectively convey the validation notice required under 15 U.S.C. § 1692g.

59. A consumer, reading the Letter, may incorrectly believe he or she can dispute the validity of the debt by merely calling Defendant, relieving the same of its obligations to provide verification and allowing it to continue collection efforts.

60. The conduct of Defendant, its agents, servants, representatives, managers, attorneys and/or employees, as described herein, is a violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1692g given the Letter invites the consumer to call the Defendant to dispute the debt or otherwise leaves a consumer uncertain or confused as to what he or she must do to effectively dispute the debt.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff, Melissa Travis, prays that this Honorable Court certify this case as a class action and enter judgment for Plaintiff and the class members as follows:

- (a) for statutory damages awarded to Plaintiff, Melissa Travis, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(a)(2)(A);
- (b) for statutory damages awarded to the Class Members pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(a)(2)(B);
- (c) for reasonable attorneys' fees for all services performed by counsel in connection with the prosecution of these claims pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(a)(3);
- (d) for reimbursement of all costs and expenses incurred in connection with the prosecution of these claims pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(a)(3);
- (e) Such other and further relief that this Honorable Court deems just and proper.

Count II
Violations of the FDCPA
15 U.S.C. § 1692e

61. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the above paragraphs of this Class Action Complaint as though fully set forth herein.

62. Because the list is non-exhaustive, a debt collection practice can be deemed a false, deceptive, or materially misleading practice even if it does not fall within any of the subsections of Section 1692e of the FDCPA.

63. The conduct of Defendant, its agents, servants, representatives, managers, attorneys and/or employees, as described herein, was false, misleading, and/or deceptive in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1692e given the Letter misrepresents to the least sophisticated consumer that he or she can call the Defendant to dispute the debt when, in reality, he or she must send a dispute of the debt in writing for the dispute to be effective.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff, Melissa Travis, prays that this Honorable Court certify this case as a class action and enter judgment for Plaintiff and the class members as follows:

- (a) for statutory damages awarded to Plaintiff, Melissa Travis, pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(a)(2)(A);
- (b) for statutory damages awarded to the Class Members pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(a)(2)(B);
- (c) for reasonable attorneys' fees for all services performed by counsel in connection with the prosecution of these claims pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(a)(3);
- (d) for reimbursement of all costs and expenses incurred in connection with the prosecution of these claims pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(a)(3);
- (e) Such other and further relief that this Honorable Court deems just and proper.
